

Straight Outta C-Hall

Newly founded Deerfield rap group M.W.A., Midwest Adolescents, is set to release its widely anticipated debut album Straight Outta C-Hall. The group, a leader in West Deerfield hip pop, first rose to local popularity with its infamous Deerfield Idol performance last year. The group is comprised of the rappers X Hall (formerly known as Ice Cube), Kaf Kookiez (formerly known as Eminem), Semester (formerly known as 2 Quarters, more formerly known as 50 Cent), and Eazy-A (formerly known as Craig).

The 13-track debut contains the well-known singles such as "Teach Teach," "Traxx: Got Nowhere to Park," "Shoutout Tim (Remix)," and the controversial "Forget the Deans." The album is now available for purchase from Eazy-A's grandmother, who will be selling CDs at her bridge matches every other Tuesday, or online through M.W.A.'s theoretical website.

We sat down with N.W.A. group member X Hall, who told us that "Our music is a reflection of our reality. We just rap about what we see. Check this: the other day I saw this kid without an ID who wasn't allowed into the Caf. Who are they keeping out of there anyway? Kids gotta eat." X Hall told us that injustices like that were the inspiration behind his forthcoming solo album Where's Yo Destination?. The album is a nearly four-hour "self-proclaimed masterpiece of humility" that mostly consists of X Hall beatboxing over GarageBand loops between forced guest appearances from his family and three cats. The music video for the album's breakout single "Nowhere But a 'G' Hall" is due out next week.

M.W.A. also sees the release of the new album as retaliation in its ongoing feud with rival Deerfield rap group Jog-D.M.C., whose music focuses primarily on cardio exercises. M.W.A. claims it is seeking revenge for Jog-D.M.C.'s recent "walk-by" attack, in which group members hurled insults at M.W.A. before making an escape by speed-walking away. In response, M.W.A. have encouraged students to boycott walking to school and instead drive to school or ride the bus. Regarding the nature of the two rap groups' feud, a spokesperson for Jog-D.M.C. commented that "It's tricky."

M.W.A.'s new album "Straight Outta C-Hall" drops February 29th, 2017.

In the first week of its release, M.W.A. expects Straight Outta C-Hall to be downloaded at least 2000 times, which would certify the album "Double Chrome." The group has also wasted no time in beginning work on its sophomore album. M.W.A. frontman Semester said that "We want to use our next album to get back to our roots. You know, gardening and whatnot." He added that the album's name is planned to be "Good Kiwi, M.A.A.D. Citrus."

- Benjy Sachs

Trump's hair found to be fake; people lose trust in politicians (p.4)

Egg prices in the Midwest increase; hens retire early (p.8)

Student reported missing, found 6 days later having finished LOST on Netflix (p.9)

2016 Freshman Exec Board Race: Your Guide to the Candidates

SHEPARD CANDIDATES:

Candidate: Gabby Eletto

Star Sign: Virgo
What's their deal?: Eletto longs to put an end to the rule of so-called "establishment politics" on the freshman executive board by bringing her years of experience on the SMS poms team rather than the humdrum student council experience of the other candidates. She has caused a stir on social media with her comments about Riverwoods.

Issues of focus: She has stated that her main goal is to cut spending for extracurricular clubs and get that smell out of c hall. She also wants to ban kids who live in Riverwoods from attending DHS and make those who already do transfer by fall of 2017.

Candidate: Jack Schmidt

Star Sign: Aquarius
What's their deal?: Some have voiced concerns that the election of Jack Schmidt could create something of a political dynasty in the freshman executive board, seeing as both of his brothers (Evan in 2014 and Jacob in 2011) have served, but he insists that he will still bring a fresh point of view to the board.

Issues of focus: Funding of Planned Parenthood, for some reason.

Candidate: Alex Griffard

Star Sign: Leo
What's their deal?: Griffard is a highly anti-government candidate who has stated that Ron Swanson of NBC's Parks and Recreation is his political role model. He has a small but vocal constituency already, but hasn't shown much ability to grow his base.

Issues of focus: He plans to disband and destroy the freshman executive board, and then the sophomore executive board a year later, and so on.

Candidate: Jared Healey

Star Sign: Gemini
What's their deal?: Healey is something of a long shot in the race, drawing only .5% of votes in the most recent polls. However, he does boast an impressive resume serving as the president of the SMS student council and having a working knowledge of what a Super PAC is.

Issues of focus: Healey has stated that he thinks that extracurricular spending has gotten out of hand,

The voting will take place this upcoming Yesterday, and will have a massive impact on school matters.

and wants to reallocate that money to provide slightly more believable meats in the caf.

CARUSO CANDIDATES:

Candidate: Alyssa Keswick

Star Sign: Capricorn

What's their deal?: Keswick is the current frontrunner and an assumed winner for the race. She held hands with current freshman exec board member Jared Galvez at Arianna Rosenberg's bat mitzvah last year, so she is something of an insider.

Issues of focus: Keswick has not explicitly stated her plans, but she has come out in support of people staying past halftime at the football games.

Candidate: Jasmine McNeish

Star Sign: Pisces
What's their deal?: McNeish is a known radical arts kid who is gaining a lot of traction with voters on tumblr. It remains to be seen whether these proponents will actually make it out to vote come the election, though.

Issues of focus: McNeish has stated that she wants to funnel drastically more money into the arts should she be elected. She declines to explain where this money will come from, which has many athletes concerned.

- Amy Muller

Flipside Poll

What are you excited for this year?

O- The warm embrace of my failing grades

O- Homecoming dress-ups

O- The new late starts (yeah right)

O- The Flipside every other Friday

O- The removal of rebus puzzles*

*Just kidding, but we scared you, didn't we?

Deliver this slip to locker E452 and I'll teach you how to Dougie

THE FLIPSIDE CRYPTOGRAM CHALLENGE: Solve the Cryptogram, and then give your copy of The Flipside to Evan Fischhoff. The first person to find him with a correctly solved puzzle will receive a special surprise (ooooo, ahhh).

ALTERNATE UNIVERSE UPDATE: Students beg for more 100 days, fewer late starts, more homework, and an additional test to the two they already have on tuesday.

REBUS PUZZLES

Can you guess the common word or phrase portrayed below?

1+1=Tango

Straw
Straw
Straw
Straw
Straw
--> Straw

Blue on cemoon

Puzzles By Evan Fischhoff

A Flipside Un-Original Cartoon

CRYPTOGRAM CHALLENGE

This is a simple substitution code. Each letter is replaced by a different letter. Try to decode the message or quote below. HINT: S becomes G

"YC JKW DUI'L DKIAYIDZ LBZQ, DKICWGZ LBZQ." - BUEEJ G. LEWQUI

You!! Yes, You. We, at the Flipside, are looking for new writers, puzzle-makers, poll makers, and just makers in general! If you are a maker, and you would like to get involved, please contact Evan Fischhoff or Jessica Chen at 161fischoffe@student.dist113.org or 161chenj@student.dist113.org. Thank you for reading the Flipside!

SUDOKU

Fill in the grid so each column, row, and 3x3 box has the numbers 1 through 9.

LEVEL: Tomorrows's math test

		2				4	3
		3		6	5
					8
9						2
	8						5
		7						3
			4
			9	8		3
	5	6				7

Flipside Fun facts

These are some really cool fun facts* that the writers at the Flipside have stumbled upon:

100% of english teachers hate this fact;

90% of people eating fast food right now are regretting their descicion.

The other 10% will be regretting it within two hours.

Giraffes with short necks are most likely not really Giraffes.

The average pencil tip breaks three times during any given math test.

*Note: Facts are not credible by any standard whatsoever

NOTE: All names and stories are fictional, unless public figures are being satirized. Remember, these are all jokes.

A special thank to Benjy Sachs, Caitlin Edelmuth, Elen Durbala, and Amy Muller for their contributions to this issue.

This edition's Editors were Evan Fischhoff and Jessica Chen.