

Where Did You Want To Go To College?

This map is based off of a real survey of students. We are sorry we could not get everyone.

A Few Final Announcements From Flipside Founder Barney Schmutz

Well, thank you all for being here for the announcements.

Let's get straight down to business. First off, Earthworks will be meeting after school next Tuesday on the moon for clean up duty. Extreme Cuisine will be having a "Foreign Delicacy" themed taste testing for next Thursday featuring ants and guinea pig intestines. Yum! All members of Drill Team, please get your rations and helmets and get ready for battle on Friday night versus GBN. Go Warriors!

Attention Seniors! Don't forget that you are graduating on May 27 at around 5:00 pm. This is one time where you don't want to be fashionably late.

Tomorrow will be a special schedule available on the district website. We will not have any of the prime number periods. One, two, three, and five—that means you! All questions on the matter should be directed to your student council representative.

All hallways will be closed for the rest of the year. If you want to get through, you will need a doctor's note and a phone call from your parents. If you want to cross through X-Hall or Q-Hall during lunch periods, you will need a passport or other type of valid identification as well.

Attention all Freshman! It is now bedtime—please report to the nap rooms located in M-Hall.

Everyone else! Make sure you read the Flipside. This is the last hurrah for this year, or the farewell issue, or yada yada.

Any complaints about being offended should be taken up with the Flipside complaint department in H-117 or with the attendance office.

Look for the Flipside next year, and if not, catch you on the Flipside.

Top 10 Reasons You're Attending the Wrong College:

By Picov Andropov

AP exams have finally come to an end and the reflection of the past four years has only just begun. We've had some good laughs here at The Flipside, often at the expense of you, the reader. You shouldn't be offended, because we have made our best effort to make fun of everyone equally.

Here are the Top 10 Reasons You're Attending the Wrong College:

Number 10: You're majoring in "English accents and why they sound funny"

Number 9: You're going to your 3rd choice, meaning your applications to University of Wrigley Field and Chicago Cubs Institute were denied

Number 8: You haven't found out yet that your roommate watches Scrubs reruns at least four times a day.

Number 7: Gymnasium doubles

as the physics department

Number 6: Most notable alumnus is Eliot Spitzer

Number 5: Professors often run in to class late wearing fast food uniform

Number 4: College is spelled "Koledge"

Number 3: Financial aid offer includes tickets to Schaumburg Flyers game

Number 2: Accepted you with an essay entitled "D=A: My High School's Messed up Grading System"

Number 1: Website statistics include "79% of graduates out on parole in four years"

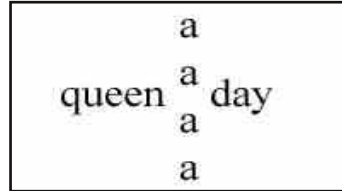

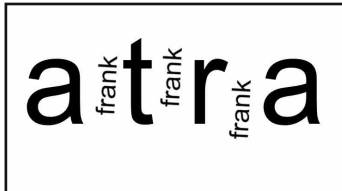

I hope you have found my column useful in the past year. Thank you to those who actually read this (you can pick up your prize in Mr. Motzko's classroom X-121). Oh, and by the way, for those of you who still don't understand, it's "pick up and drop off." Get it?

Luxembourgish (Lëtzebuergesch, French: Luxembourgeois, German: Luxemburgisch, Dutch: Luxemburgs, Walloon: Lussimbordjwès), also spelled Luxemburgish, also called Luxembourgian, is one of the West Central German dialects of High German spoken in Luxembourg. About 300,000 people worldwide speak Luxembourgish.

The appearance of The Flipside every Thursday or Friday in bins and trash cans around the school is a quantum mechanical phenomenon related to the dissipation of black body radiation.
