

Bears Try New Strategy: Offense

The 2009 Bears are trying something they haven't even attempted in over two decades: playing offense. Lovie Smith discovered this groundbreaking new idea when watching film of opposing teams. Smith reveals, "It was an epiphany! I never realized you could mix up the play selection. Now, we might try to surprise the opponent with a deep throw! Or there is this thing where you fake the run and then throw it!! The possibilities are endless, especially when considering the great talent at our skill positions."

Lovie is not the only person fascinated with the idea of playing hard on both sides of the ball. Superstar Devin Hester admits in remarkably good English and after thanking g-d for giving him the opportunity to answer this question, "Before the strategy was to score on special teams and maybe defense. Our offense's goal was to fill the other team with confidence and too also let our defense be on the field more. Now, things are different.

Maybe other teams will punt to me if they realize our offense now understands their goal is to move the ball forward."

Matt Forte also is learning new things about football. He explains in University of Tulane quality grammar (which I believe he got in on an academic scholarship), "Cedric [Benson] always told me the goal of a running back was to run straight into the other team and then fall down when they touch you. I guess there is this thing called 'cut backs.'" Orton too learned valuable lessons. This is a transcript of his conversation with Lovie when he found out about offense.

"Before the strategy was to score on special teams and maybe defense," Devin Hester

Orton, "So you mean I should only throw it to the guys wearing the same color jersey?" Lovie, "Yes. Also, you should try to make the ball land where they can catch it."

Orton, "Really!?" Lovie, "Really. You could even consider faking out the other team by not staring at the guy you want to throw the ball to." Orton, "Coach, you are making things too complicated. I can only do one new thing at a time."

Lovie, "Why don't you try to not get hit by the guys running at you?"

Orton, "That's not what you told me before. Or Rex."

Lovie, "Rex is our quarterback." Orton, "I thought I was."

Lovie, "Oh yeah."

New Hand Dryer Causes Four Students to Go Deaf, One Hand Also Lost

DHS has made many cosmetic upgrades to the school this year, but one is causing a lot of noise. Literally, the new hand dryers in the bathrooms officially blow louder than the human threshold of pain. There have been four reported cases of students completely losing their hearing due to these new hand dryers. There are probably even more cases, but no one can hear them. Similarly, one student's hand was simply blown away by the awesome power of the new hand dryers. When asked if they would do anything to address the issue, school board representative Audi Torry said, "Well, at least it's energy efficient."

ABC's Lost Fan's Head Explodes

By: Jake Perlson
CHICAGO, IL— Steven Rosenthal, 41, was found dead in his apartment last week. Next to him, season 3 and 4 of Lost on DVD and notebooks filled with Lost theories.

Detective John McDougal is the lead detective on the case. "The scene was dark," McDougal tells Flipside reporters. "The only light in the room was from his TV and his glowing computer screen on Lostpedia.com. I suspect his confused brain couldn't take the stresses of Lost anymore, so he just, I don't know, exploded."

The county coroner refused to perform the autopsy saying, "The Island has spoken."

Steven's family understands and they have only one wish, to have

Steven buried on the Island. This request, however, is impossible as of right now because the Island disappeared at the end of season 4.

Steven is the 23rd Lost related death this year but the first case of 'spontaneously exploding head.' Deranged fans have died by many other far fetched ways in the past. Last month, two fans fell to their deaths during an attempt to break into ABC headquarters. The week before a man put himself into a chemically induced coma because he couldn't bear the wait until the next season, needless to say, he will not be waking up any time soon. And perhaps the most notable Lost related death happened almost a year ago today when Robert Samuelson purposely crashed his private jet in the Bermuda Triangle with hopes of making it to the island.

So as Steven's family mourns and waits for Season 5, the Lost related death toll rises everyday while Lost fans die in their quest for answers.

First Class Is More Than a Way of Life, It's a Free T-shirt

School Moving Closer To Getting Rid of Kids With Construction of New Fence

Also Inside

The Secret of Atlantis Revealed

Lost and Found: Where the Real Money is At

What the Teachers Say Behind Our Backs

If you want to write for the Flipside, email Sam Block articles. That's all there is to it

"I am from the south side... of Deerfield" Anybody who went to South Park, the most ghetto school in D-field

PICTURE THIS

REBUS PUZZLE:

Can you guess the common word or phrase portrayed below?

Last week's answers: Go up in smoke, You're under arrest, Skate on thin ice, For once in my life

NUMBERS: 24 million

The total number of Facebooks photos uploaded daily to the popular social networking site. Many of you can proudly say that you have contributed to this number with your great albums. Go us! And as always, tag me.

FACT:

An ounce of platinum can be stretched 10,000 feet. Platinum is also wear and tarnish proof, which is why I encase all my belongings with pure platinum, including my grillz.

LIE:

The entire world. We, in fact, live in the matrix.

CRYPTOGRAM CHALLENGE

DIRECTIONS: This is a simple substitution code, each letter is replaced by a different letter. The first person to solve the cryptogram correctly will win a Flipside t-shirt! (first means first to see Sam Block to redeem shirt)

LAST WEEK'S WINNER: Andrew Kim

HINT: D = S

that means, that if there is any of the first letter, replace it with the second letter

"UN WSU AD SU ADCSUE, HUXAZH AU NT AXDHCT; SUE XYHZHTNZH UHIHZ DHUE XN GUNQ TNZ QYNW XYH PHCC XNCCD; AX XNCCD TNZ XYHH." MNYU
ENUUH

Last week's answer: "I took Gotham's white knight, and brought him down to our level. It wasnt hard. Y'see madness, as you know, is like gravity. All it takes is a little push" - THE JOKER

SUDOKU

Level: What ever

	9						7
	7	5	9		1	4	2
1		4				8		6
			7	4	6
				9
			3	2	5
9		2				6		8
	6	7	8		2	9	3
	5						4

DIRECTIONS: Unscramble these four ordinary jumbles, and use the letters in the circles to answer the final question.

JUMBLE

HUDON
○ ○ ○ ○

DUGFE
○ ○ ○ ○

TONTER
○ ○ ○ ○ ○

TOPERL
○ ○ ○ ○ ○

You're

Of

last week: POLKA DEPTH PELLET ADONIS What Howie Mandel told the pesky car salesman There is NO DEAL