

THE FLIPSIDE

Digest

7th Year, No. 126, Issue 5

November 3, 2011

www.dhsflipside.com

*Free Everywhere; $2.30

More Headlines

Kim Kardashian Gets Divorced, Nobody Surprised Except Husband

Deerfield Police Officer Pulls Old Woman Over for "Reckless Driving"

Student Wears Pocahontas Costume, No One Offended

3 pennies

A "Free the Ladybugs" t-shirt

A baggie of figs

4 pieces of half-eaten Lifesavers

The Premature Chair-Stacking in Lunchroom: Behind the Conspiracy

By Iris Pennington-Smith and Hugh Jass

Every day, the janitors come up from Custodia to stack every chair in the lunch room on top of the tables. But this stacking time is becoming earlier and earlier—so much so that Flipside reporters decided to investigate the problem. Recent studies show that the average time at which a first stacking occurs is at 12:17 p.m., almost an hour before the final lunch period ends.

"I haven't even opened my bag of Gartetto's by the time they start putting the chairs on the tables," said sophomore Sami Willicker. "I'm considering moving to the CCRC because I just feel so pressured to finish my lunch every day."

But The Flipside has discovered that this premature chair-stacking is much more than the acts of an overachieving custodial staff. It is in fact part of a conspiracy that can be traced all the way to 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington D.C. Deerfield's "janitors" are actually agents of Michelle Obama's campaign to end childhood obesity in America.

"I'm just doing what I was told," said a nervous James Hatcher, the DHS' head custodian. "They told me that the faster we stack the chairs, the less the students will want to eat."

However, the plan seems to be backfiring at DHS. Students are being forced to shovel down their lunches as fast as they can, causing their metabolisms to slow down. And the drive-by caf is certainly not helping the cause. Since the new area opened last week, students are leaving the cafeteria in record time (cookie sales have also soared 137%, but that's a different story). They are no longer taking the time to enjoy the ketchup ceiling stains from the Great Food Fight of '09, the beautiful views of the staff parking lot, or find the disappearing Legend of Zelda branded trays.

What's more, the library has noticed a boom of students coming to study once the chair-stacking starts. This leads us to believe that it is linked to something even bigger than Michelle Obama: China. It is now believed that President Barack Obama's approval of the First Lady's health initiatives is rooted in his plan to catch American students up to the level of our Chinese counterparts.

The conspiracy is, however, benefitting the janitors. Our investigators discovered that once the last student leaves the lunchroom, the janitors crank up a boombox, clear out the tables, and make the cafeteria into a dance floor. For them, faster chair stacking means better dance parties.

But for the students, the chair-stacking problem at DHS has no end in sight. If you are interested in ending this torture to the student body here and to students at schools all across the nation, PLEASE, sign the online petition at: www.ilikethefeelingofbeingoutofbreathafterwalkupafightofstairs.org.

The Things We Found in Our Trick-or-Treat Bags This Halloween

By Trixie McGuff

A candy cane

A business card from
"Mandy's Magic Fingers"

A first-generation
iPod shuffle

One live toad

30 copies of The Flipside

Now that Halloween's over, it's time for Christmas commercials to start! Who needs Thanksgiving anyway? That's so 1863...

THE FLIPSIDE CRYPTOGRAM CHALLENGE: Solve the Cryptogram, write down your name, and then find and give your copy of The Flipside to Maddie Ambrose. There will be a drawing to see who will win a sweet Flipside t-shirt!

QUOTE "This Halloween I went trick-or-trea...I mean I went to a really cool party!"
-Freshmen everywhere

REBUS PUZZLES

Can you guess the common word or phrase portrayed below?

Last issue's answers: WARLOCK, BEETLE JUICE, SNICKERS, SPIDER WEB

CRYPTOGRAM CHALLENGE

This is a simple substitution code. Each letter is replaced by a different letter. Try to decode the message or quote below. HINT: X=T
Congratulations to last issue's winner: Ellen Kerschke

"ITVQTA GYQ MTQGD FA GWJJ XAJJ VQR XYIX W IF IJJ IKQRX FQTAV. W FAIT, CRDX JQQM YQG GAJJ FV JWTA QP SQOWIH-WTDBWZAO XQA ZWTUD ITO YQFAQBIXYWH HYWJOZAT'D FAOWHIXWQTD IZA DAJJWTU QT YQFA DYQBBWTU TAXGQZM." ~XWTI PAV

Last issue's answer: "I USE THE WORD TOTALLY TOO MUCH. I NEED TO CHANGE IT UP AND USE A WORD THAT IS DIFFERENT BUT HAS THE SAME MEANING. MITCH DO YOU LIKE SUBMARINE SANDWICHES? ALL-ENCOMPASSINGLY..." ~MITCH HEDBURG

SUDOKU

LEVEL: pH 11

Fill in the grid so each column, row, and 3x3 box has the numbers 1 through 9.

3	2		7	5		8
			4		5	3
9	4		8	1		2
			9	3	2
5	6			2		1
			1	6	3
1			6	2	7	3
	8	7		1
6			8	5	1	4

NOTE: All names and stories are fictional, unless public figures are being satirized. Remember, these are all jokes.

To contact us, email 121chamberlain-simon@student.dist113.org.

For more information and more content, visit dhsflipside.com.

NUMB3RS

149

Number of Cardinals fans at DHS after the World Series.

6

Number of actual Cardinals fans at DHS.

JUMBLE

Unscramble these four ordinary jumbles, and use the letters in circles to answer the final question.

NYOHE

TEDDA

TIRUSO

ORLFEW

Last issue's answers: PREFER, DRIES, AWARE, ANTHEM
What the painting said when it was arrested: I WAS FRAMED

The Flipside is always looking for new writers, puzzle makers, and distributors.
E-mail us if you're interested. Really, we want your help.