

SHIELD Testing Tips & Tricks

By Ilan Kaplan
Spitting is a skill that we as humans develop very early in life before we can walk, talk, or get to the front door of the school without having our IDs out. However, since we spend much less time spitting nowadays than we used to, its sudden relevance may have been an unpleasant shock for those struggling to fill up their vials. Unless you play a brass instrument or enjoy sunflower seeds, you probably don't spit for fun on a daily basis. Luckily, I am here to offer some expectorating expertise to get you to class on time.

Calm Those Nerves!

The trickiest part of the whole process is most certainly getting in the headspace to be pumping out enough spit to clone yourself. Now the Saliva Specialists™ have kindly placed images of sour foods around the testing zone to help you salivate, but you can imagine anything that makes you drool like a fat slice of Portillo's chocolate cake or that one cutie in the top right corner of your Honors Spanish II Zoom. If you get nervous from people watching you, utilize the classic strategy of pretending everyone is in their underwear, or remember that they too are awkwardly spitting into a funnel for several minutes in a high school library. And remember, the testing professionals are more afraid of you than you are of them.

A Little Motivation

Embrace your competitive nature and have a little bit of fun to make the time go by quicker! Establish dominance by making direct eye contact with other spitters while hacking mega loogies to intimidate unsuspecting freshmen who just want to go home for lunch. Unfortunately, phones aren't allowed during testing, so pack a stopwatch and go for a speed spit school record! High scores will be posted in the library's Burgundy Room as well as in the PERC.

Cheaters Never Prosper... Unless?

Don't have the time or willpower to make all that spit yourself? I will be selling Dixie Cups of my spit in the upper X-Hall bathroom for $4. Your DNA will be sold to Facebook after the test is over anyway, so you might as well preserve the smallest bit of privacy, get an extra hour of eating/drinking time, and just use someone else's. Plus, then you can get COVID and endanger the health of those around you scot-free! Happy drooling! Whether it takes you two minutes or two class periods, remember that we're all in this together. Everyone else looks and feels like a dingus spitting into a funnel too, so follow this guide, have some fun, and you too can be hacking up a lung like a Major League Baseball coach in no time.

In Defense of WDT

By The Flipside Staff

WDT is under attack. They've been made villains by nearly all of the class of 2021 for just trying to have fun! Listen, I was at the party and we were more than 100% COVID safe, ask anyone (that was there). We only took our masks off for our Instagram pictures where we stacked up against each other like entitled sardines and then only those two times when we went for a swim in the heated outdoor pool. Well, and then there was the time we took them off to eat pizza... but I digress. COMPLETELY SAFE. Sure, I'm a WDT simp, but I'm a proud simp. They have done absolutely nothing wrong and are receiving hate for no reason at all! You know, we're the real victims here. And I'll have you know, my dad's a lawyer and he's going to SUE ALL OF YOU!!! You know it's funny that somehow all the blame got placed on WDT even though the hockey team is equally responsible (and by responsible I mean responsible for doing nothing wrong and having a good time). To the people slandering WDT and the Hockey Team's good name, I have prepared a list of arguments that will undoubtedly convince you that I am right and you are wrong. Have you considered getting a life? Maybe you all are just salty that you don't have friends and don't get invited to super-spreader parties. Testing negative for corona sounds like loser talk to me. We won state. You didn't. All of our actions are justified because we're good at dancing. Do you even play a sport? We're actually the ones who are helping fight 'rona. The hockey boys are gonna get it and get over it and then we'll have herd immunity. It's not like we're spreading it to anyone anyways. If we take all the COVID for ourselves no one else will get it. It's like printing money to get rid of your debt! We have a first amendment right to party whenever we want. Trust me, I literally just took my AP Gov test online. Talk to me when you get a life, losers. Anyways, I'll be going to virtual practice now. See you after Spring Break. I'll be in Miami while you're crying at home. Later nerds, catch you on the flipside!

The enemy

Top 5 least problematic clubs

1. Robotics

Made globals last year, which is better than state, but unfortunately it got cancelled. Still, keep changing the world through AI!

2. KIVA

What's KIVA?

- Everyone

3. Earthworks

It's not easy being green, but Earthworks helps keep our school eco-friendly by going to an hourly meeting once a week!

4. Bowling

Every year at the pep rally when all the sports get introduced, bowling gets the crowd going like none other.

5. Ping Pong Club

I think everyone has walked by Ping Pong Club and has said to their friend, "we should have done that." Who doesn't love Ping Pong?
